Meeting Across The River Stories

Hey, Eddie, can you get us a ride," starts the Bruce Springsteen song, "Meeting Across the River," from his classic 1975 album Born to Run. With its spare lyrics and the moody trumpet playing in the background, Springsteen's song tells the tale of two smalltime losers out for one last try at the brass ring, and provides the inspiration behind the 20 stories found in this imaginative and enjoyable anthology.

Surprisingly good collection of short stories all with loose tie-ins to the 1975 Bruce Springsteen song Meeting Across the River. Plots are varied settings but usually include Eddie, Cherry and rivers to cross; sometimes the pawned radio is mentioned , and usually the plots result in things not going quite as planned, just as one imagines the song would end if it continued.

I can't say how delighted and surprised I was by the stories. Although all inspired by the same song, the yarns were vastly different -- some comedic, others very intense. Eddie Muller's "Last Call" and Eric Garcia's "Meeting Across The River" were particularly compelling. A quick, memorable read, heartily endorsed!

Hey Eddie, can you lend me a few bucks
And tonight can you get us a ride
Gotta make it through the tunnel
Got a meeting with a man on the other side
Hey Eddie, this guy, he's the real thing
So if you want to come along
You gotta promise you won't say anything
'Cause this guy don't dance
And the word's been passed
This is our last chance
We gotta stay cool tonight, Eddie
'Cause man, we got ...
